ERNEST BARRETT, member of jaysee's debate squad for three semesters, who has had to drop forensic work because of a conflict with outside employment.

Matinee Dances Begin Soon

Matinee dances will be held as soon as service clubs complete arrangements and set a definite date for the initial dance, Associated Student President Walter Swanberger stated today.

After each club has been given an opportunity to sponsor a dance, a prize will be awarded the club donating most receipts to the student fund.

Dances, which will be sponsored by service clubs aided by Social Commissioner Jo Butler, will probably be held in the lobby of the YMCA, President Swanberger said.

Student executives hope to award the prize, which will not be less than $5, to the winning club on Fiesta Day.

El Don Inaugurates Cartoon Series

In line with the policy announced last week by Gloria Kirchner, El Don's new editor, a series of local campus cartoons featuring various campus events have been planned to appear during the semester.

The first of these cartoons, originated by Gene Hamaker, appears on page six today. Others by Hamaker and Dick Gardner will be published from time to time, Miss Kirchner said.

Hamaker and Gardner, graduates of Santa Ana High school, have both had considerable experience in cartoon work.

Former Don Student Tells How To Tour Europe on $1 a Day

(Editor's note: This is the second of two articles on the rapid development being made throughout the world by the hostel movement. Facts for the series were gathered by Mr. Wilson, a former Don, on a recent tour of Europe.)

By STANLEY WILSON

Every summer the American Youth hostel association of Northfield, Mass., sponsors trips to Europe for different age groups under responsible trained leaders for as low as $250 or $300. This price includes round trip steamer fare, expenses of a trained leader, and six weeks of hosteling in Europe.

Young people who have taken these trips have lived and talked with European youth, and have gained a first hand acquaintance with the problems that are troubling Europe and the peace of the world. At the same time they have obtained a comprehensive picture of the history of the past as it is written by men in the ancient buildings, cathedrals, and museums.

HISTORIC INTEREST

Hostels are usually a day's hike apart and an attempt is made to place them at points of historical interest. In Winchester we stayed at the old city water mill built in 1776, washed in the

JAYSEE MAY GET MORE BUNGALOWS

Dons Terminate Debate Season At Pomona

After competing at Riverside this week, Don debaters were today preparing to close the forensic season Tuesday, March 7.

Balloting to determine the winner of the round robin tournaments, in which the Dons have been participating, will be counted following completion of debates at Pomona jaysee.

Competing for the winner's trophy in the debate competition are teams from Fullerton, Pomona, Citrus, Riverside, San Bernardino, and Chaffey, as well as Santa Ana. Isamu Masuda, Gil Brookings, Edward Budd, and James Tranter comprise the local teams.

Ernest Barrett, member of the squad during the last three semesters, has had to drop his debate work in favor of a part-time position with the Santa Ana merchant police, it was learned this week.

Following the close of the conference season at Pomona, the Dons will participate in the Southern California post-conference tournament at Pasadena jaysee, March 23, according to present plans.

Build New Partition In Board Building

Due to the confusion in the main office of the Board of Education building, the corridor was cut off by an additional wall to make a separate office for Miss Anne Wetherell, former jaysee student, George D. Newcome, business manager of city schools, said today.

The switch board is placed conveniently at the right of Miss Wetherell's new desk. "I am thoroughly pleased with the change, Miss Wetherell explained, because there was so much confusion in the other office."

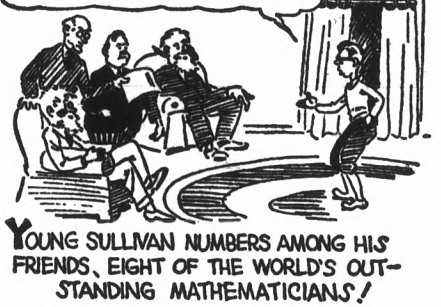

Finishing touches are still being done by the painters but it is reported that the work will be finished by Monday.

Nation-wide attention was again focused on jaysee this week as the result of a syndicated cartoon on Herbert Sullivan, 14-year-old genius, who registered here last semester. Over 300 colleges receive and print the cartoons syndicated by the Associated Collegiate Press of which El Don is a member.

Board Minutes

Members of the board pointed out that no petition for the Monday election had been taken out. It was decided to continue with plans previously made.

Discussion of forming an inter-club council group met with the favor of the board.

Publicity plans for a musical assembly March 17 were presented.

Much of the background for the important happenings of today was given by the speaker this morning, as well as some observations on the future of Europe, especially of Italy under Mussolini.

COMPLETE CAMPUS COVERAGE

New Campus Need Shown By Big Enrollment

Failure of Santa Ana citizens to vote the necessary bonds for a new campus last fall will necessitate the erection of several new bungalow additions here during the summer, it was learned today.

Plans for the expansion program, made necessary by the current increase in local enrollment, will likely be discussed at the next meeting of the board of education Monday evening.

CLASSROOMS NEEDED

The enrollment here reached an all-time second semester high this week of 877 students. This is 75 more than at the same time last year. A total of 1111 students have enrolled during the year to date.

If present plans materialize, another bungalow similar to bungalow L which houses the domestic science department, will be erected, providing a large lecture room with a seating capacity of approximately 80 and a smaller classroom seating about 65 students. In order to meet the present needs of the mechanical drawing department a bungalow on the board of education lot will also be enlarged, college officials said.

Final arrangements for the local expansion program rest with the trustees who are expected to authorize the erection of the additional classrooms just as soon as architect's plans are completed, El Don was told yesterday.

PLANT NEEDED

With the new campus setup side-tracked for the time being as a recent bond defeat, it appears that the college will find it necessary to continue spending money on bungalows and temporary classrooms until the voters decide to push the campaign for a modern college plant for Santa Ana, it was learned.

rule, no smoking in the hostels. Dormitories are quiet with lights out at 10 p. m. so that hikers and bikers may be fresh for an early morning start. The evenings are usually spent talking, getting acquainted and singing around the fireplace in the common room.

SIGN STATEMENTS

In obtaining a hostel pass the hosteler must sign a statement that:

"I will not use hostels if I have suffered from or been in contact with infectious diseases during any part of the quarantine period. If I have a cold I will report to the house parents so I may sleep away from the other hostelers."

"I will try to keep high the standards and reputation of the youth hostels and will keep in mind the youth hostel motto: 'Not for myself, but for the group.'"

USE SIGN LANGUAGE

I wanted some milk, but I couldn't tell which pitcher on the table contained milk, and I didn't know the Dutch word. So I imitated milking a cow, drinking a glass of milk, and ended up with a moo. The bunch had a good laugh . . . but I got my milk!

Hitler has recognized the value of the youth hostels and is encouraging all the young people of Germany to use them. He wants the youth to see their country, to know it, and to learn to love it.

At six o'clock in the morning a door opened into the long dormitory with over 200 boys "schlafen" and "snousen" (sleeping and snoring), and an official in full military dress entered, strode to the center of the room, stopped, held up his hand in the Nazi salute, and shouted, "Ober! Ausgang! Heil Hitler!" (Up! Out! and Good morning!) That was my first awakening in a German Youth

Honor Club Will Meet Tuesday

Gathering under the leadership of their newly-elected officers for the first time, members of Phi Sigma Alpha, social science honor society, will meet Tuesday in the Women's lounge, President Sam Masuda announced today.

PLAN DINNER

Consideration of possible new members and plans for their initiation at a dinner to be given Tuesday, March 7, will be the principal business of the club next week, Masuda said.

New officers who will take over administration of the organization in addition to Masuda include Fritz Schweigert, vice-president, and Evelyn Rice, secretary-treasurer.

ADD EIGHT MEMBERS

Approximately eight new members will be taken in by the club, stated Orville M. Knutsen, adviser of the group. Most of them will be freshmen, as it is the policy of the club to take in sophomores during the first semester and freshmen during the second half of the school year, he said.

"Membership in the honor society will be based upon scholarship, with preference given to first year students in the eligible group," Knutsen announced.

In the United States the youth hostel movement is comparatively new. There are only about 150 hostels, chiefly in New England, though a chain of hostels has been started in the Appalachians, the Great Lakes, the Rockies, and California.

"The purpose of the American Youth hostels," as quoted from pass, "is to help all, especially young people, to a greater knowledge, understanding, and love of the world, by providing them Youth Hostels, bicycle trails and foot paths in America, and by assisting them in their travels both here and abroad. Hostels are primarily for those who are interested in the out of doors and are for the purpose of enabling them not only to enjoy the cultural benefits of travel but also to win them to an appreciation of nature that in the enjoyment of it they may develop into a happier, stronger, cleaner, and more wholesome youth; and enable them to form friendships that will link them to youth and the world over."

Youth hosteling has been called: "the most hopeful movement for peace." And well it may be called that, for only through understanding and friendship, built upon an acquaintance with other countries and their peoples and problems, can peace be reached.

Jaysee Service Clubs Plan Active Semester For Season's Pledges

With the choice of this semester's pledges concluding the rush season for jaysee men's service clubs, leaders of the women's clubs today stepped into the social spotlight with plans for forthcoming rush parties. Details of arrangements made by the nine clubs follow.

JUNIOR LIONS

Meeting next Monday, the Junior Lions will discuss plans for their booth at the Penny fair and also their participation in the staging of matinee dances which will be held every other week by a different club.

Discussion of arrangements for the initiation of pledges will also take place. The pledges are Vernon Worden, Milton Asher, Bernard Hart, Bill Bacon, Noble Sellers, Marvin Jacobs, and Bill Carden.

TO ALL CLUBS

In order to facilitate news gathering for jaysee service clubs, the following reporters have been assigned to cover the clubs for the rest of the semester. If your club news doesn't appear, ask the reporter assigned to your group why the omission occurred.

PILOTEERS

Members of the Piloteers entertained rushees this week at the Garden Grove home of Elinor Clemons. Pledges will be decided upon at the next regular meeting Monday.

Committees for the rush party Wednesday were: refreshments, Phyllis Krock, Margaret Jaberg, Betty Marble, and Gerry Peck; invitations, Anna May Archer, Miss Clemons, and Adele George; entertainment, Anne St. Clair, June Swingle, and Alma Mae Hiatt; transportation, Merle Swingle, Miss Archer, and Miss Jaberg.

Profits from the matinee dance sponsored by the Piloteers recently amounted to $11 which the club will contribute to the student loan fund.

BUCCANEERS

Following a rush party held in the home of Skipper Hal Tucker recently, the Buccaneers today announced the names of 12 pledges taken into the service club.

Rushees were invited to attend a brief business session during which members discussed plans for the intra-mural sports tournaments.

Pledges accepted were Don Stewart, Wilmer Lee, Hugh Nelson, Bob Kloess, Ed Gould, Roy

Bishop, Gene Hamaker, Bill Paschke, Ralph Bright, Nelson Harnois, Bob Guenther, and Don Schmock.

LAS GITANAS

Maureen McClintock will be hostess in her home tomorrow night when members of Las Gitanas hold their rush party. Pledge bids will be written at the meeting Monday.

Plans for the Gitanas booth at the Penny fair are progressing rapidly, President Gertrude Yourt said.

The club has voted $2 to the Phi Theta Kappa scholarship fund. Receipts from the Gypsy Doodle, the group's annual sport dance to be held soon, will also go toward this fund.

LOS GAUCHOS

Concluding this semester's rush season, Los Gauchos service club today listed the following students as club pledges: Meyers McCrory, Floyd Gorton, John Beeson, Bill Reid, and Joe Wolfe.

Tattlers To Renew Club Membership

Adopting a new method of selecting candidates, members of the jaysee literary society, Tavern Tattlers, began compilation this week of a tentative list of members for next year.

CHOOSE MEMBERS SOON

In place of waiting until next September before renewing the club membership—a difficult process after graduation has disrupted the organization—candidates will be elected by the society before the close of the semester, Audrey Barnes, Tattler president said today.

Selections will not be released until after final elections have taken place, Miss Barnes advised.

WILL SEE FRENCH PICTURE

After meeting Tuesday evening at the College library, 11 members of the Tattlers with adviser T. H. Glenn, set next Friday as the date for the society's second semester theatre party. Plans were made to view the French film, "Carnet de Bal," currently playing at the Esquire theatre in Los Angeles.

With the first issue of Tavern Post yet to be released, Miss Barnes and Mr. Glenn will decide this week on the staff for the second issue of the semi-annual publication, due in April. The current issue of the Post will be released March 1, Staff Editor Herschel Albrecht said today.

MARION B. YOUEL, vice-president of the board of education, who accompanied Director D. K. Hammond and Superintendent F. A. Henderson to Cleveland, Ohio, this week for the annual administrators convention.

Administrators Off For Convention

Leaving Santa Ana Tuesday for Cleveland, Ohio, Director D. K. Hammond, Superintendent Frank A. Henderson, and Marion B. Youel of the board of education will attend sessions of the American Association of School Administrators beginning tomorrow.

Three sessions will be held each day until the end of the 69th annual convention on March 2, Director Hammond stated before his departure. Talks and discussions of the problems of education and their relation to world conditions will form the featured part of the programs, which are to be attended by about 10,000 representatives.

The junior college convention will be limited to such technical problems as the offering of new courses, Director Hammond said.

Benefits of Physical Education Explained by Jaysee Coaches

By BEN STEFFENS

"Giving healthy exercise to students who otherwise wouldn't get any is only one of the benefits of physical education in a college. Participation in sports teaches a respect and an understanding for other people and it produces a more harmonious society."

FIVE DAYS BENEFICIAL

That is the way Coach A. J. "Bill" Cook explains the services of jaysee's physical education department.

Under state law every able student must enroll in a P. E. class every semester for a minimum of two days a week. Physical Directors Zena Leck, Cook, and John Ward agree that a five day week in P. E. would be beneficial if facilities would allow it.

NAME CLASSES

For men, classes in swimming, basketball, badminton, boxing, wrestling, tennis, golf, and tumbling are offered. Under classification of games, technique and practice in handball, swimming, basketball, boxing and wrestling is included, a short time being devoted to each subject.

For women, classes in tennis, swimming and badminton are offered. Also included in the women's sports classes are three subjects which have no counterpart in men's physical education. They are the classes in natural dancing, clogging, and folk dancing, which are intended to produce grace.

Team sports include hockey, vol-

JC Band To Appear In Small Groups

Unable to play as a unit at many jaysee functions because of the conflicting private work of many of its members, the college band regularly supplies instrumental groups for various events, Musical Director Alan A. Revill stated today.

An insufficient number of players is another reason for the few appearances made by the band, according to Mr. Revill. Baritone, basses, trumpets, and clarinets are especially needed.

Orchestra members and other college music students will also take part in the conference. Last year, Mr. Revill directed the A Cappella group at the conference.

leyball, basketball, and baseball, with short term practice in each sport.

Sports competition with other schools are under the physical education departments but are extra-curricular, non-credit subjects.

Recent newspaper reports indicate that Santa Ana, the county seat that was labeled "Shanty Ana" by E. V. Durling of the Los Angeles Times, is at last going to have a new Santa Fe depot to replace the rickety old railway station on East Fourth street. It took years to AROUSE sufficient interest in the project yet remained for a LIVE newspaper columnist to secure ACTION.

According to present indications it seems that we of the junior college should also engage Mr. Durling to help us secure a new campus here. With interest waning on the part of local service groups and the public in general, it is evident that we need some outside party to AROUSE new life in the college campaign.

It is well-known and generally recognized that Santa Ana Junior college is one of the best jaysees in the state and has one of the highest academic ratings in the West. But it is also recognized that it has one of the poorest educational homes in all California; that its campus is the least attractive of any in the Eastern conference of which it is a member; that lack of a gymnasium and auditorium of its own is a sore spot in the eyes of every prospective student and local resident.

And yet in view of all the facts it is significant that but few in the city save school officials SEE the need sufficiently to be willing to fight for a new college plant.

All in all it is a very discouraging situation that we who live in these unattractive surroundings must face. Perhaps we should appeal to Mr. Durling and let him in on the secret that a new campus is needed. Perhaps we should invite him to come down and investigate the sad situation. Perhaps we should let him know that "Shanty Ana" not only has an antique railroad station but a pitiful campus as well.

Now that he has seen to it that the city is to get a new depot perhaps he would be willing to turn his efforts toward a new college.

How about it, Dr. Durling, can't you prescribe the necessary medicine and help us out?

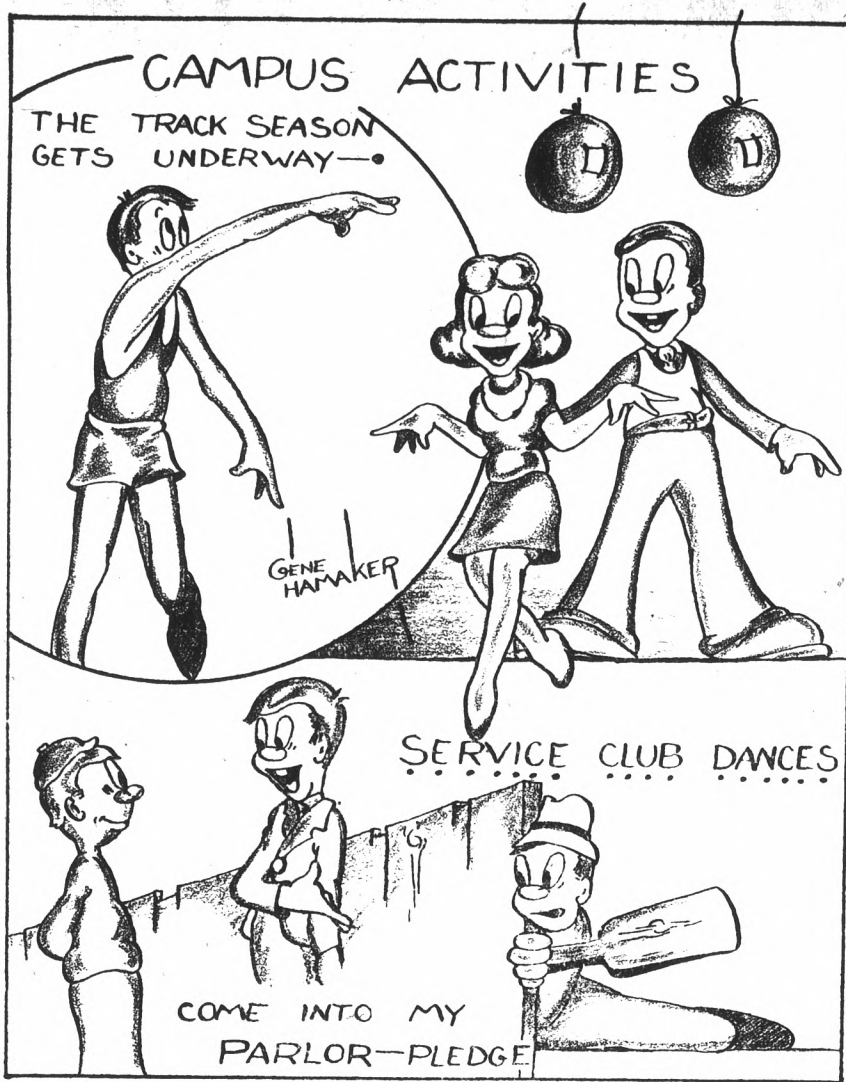

Orchids and Onions

The attitude of quite a few students seems to be that they would be doing everyone a great honor by getting their pictures taken for Del Ano. Contrary to most schools, it costs them nothing, and a dollar will be applied toward getting any other prints made. There is no excuse for the NEGLIGENCE that has been shown, and the deadline, March 1, draws ever nearer, while this select group refuses to walk a few blocks and sit for a few minutes.

And the orchids go to Claire Westermann, sophomore editor of Del Ano, who has written countless notes to remind these people of their OPPORTUNITY. If more students showed the tireless effort and patience that Miss Westermann, has, getting out a year book would be a pleasure.

Dislikes Don Attitude

El Don Mail Box

SANTA ANA, Feb. 22—(To the Editor of El Don)—Last week I noticed in your columns an interview concerning the attitudes of various students about war. One said he wouldn't aid in an aggressive war on our part, but would do their best in a defensive campaign. Of all the childish foolishness! War is war, whether defensive or aggressive. There would be the identical things at stake if we were invaded or if we provoked a war. It is highly improbable that there would be an invasion of our country. And it is highly improbable, with our present view-point, that we would provoke a war.

These clubs that form themselves for the purpose of saying they won't go to war, are more of a detriment to our country than the most radical of the anarchists.

Located on Treasure island, a 400-acre, man-made miracle in San Francisco bay, and linked to the mainland by the longest bridge spans in the world, an official attendance figure for the 288-day Pageant of the Pacific is estimated at 20,000,000 persons, a pilgrimage 10 times greater than the combined population of the Bay communities.

SANTA ANA REPRESENTED

It is in this pilgrimage that local transportation officials will play a part, since through them arrangements have already been made whereby a Santa Ana civic delegation attended the opening ceremonies, Feb. 18.

According to local railroad ticket offices, the transportation problem, will multiply itself many times by summertime.

To accommodate the anticipated delegations from local sources, as well as all the Southland, arrangements have been made in the form of special supplements to the regular San Francisco train schedules. In addition, special rates to encourage rail travel have been placed in effect.

With $50,000,000 expended on the Golden Gate Exposition, and with 36 states and 41 foreign nations contributing to the exhibits, visitors are assured of a summer's education and entertainment.

CAMPUS MIRROR

ONE YEAR AGO

Ernest Crozier Phillips, drama instructor, chose Vic Rowland and Margaret Davies for the leading parts in "Stage Door," Fiesta play.

TWO YEARS AGO

Los Gauchos began their lending library with funds gained in the Penny fair.

It shows a self-centered, bloated egotism to think that, by the simple declaration of, "I won't go to war," they can stop the wheels of government from turning. Haven't they even enough sense to realize that through the ages war has been concerned with something so deep that the mere "I will," or "won't" can't stop it from happening? I think those individuals should go back to kindergarten and learn the OATH OF ALLEGIANCE.

I was taught that country came first before self or job or anything. And these perverted individuals that think otherwise have a streak of yellow up and down their back a yard wide. America first last and always.—B. NOTLEY

Catholic Students Express Regret

MOURN POPE'S DEATH

Before another month passes, the College of Cardinals will have balloted a new leader for the Roman Catholic church. But amidst the impressive rituals and ancient rites of choosing a new pope the memory of Pope Pius XI remains.

Baptized Achille Ratti, he began his priestly duties as a librarian. Not until he reached the age of 60 did he become an archbishop. From that point his rise was swift. At 64 he became a cardinal and scarcely six months later, Pope.

His work as librarian provided him with the knowledge and background necessary for his high position. His period of service, which lasted almost 17 years to a day, was marked with attempts to bring about world peace.

Members of jaysee's Newman club, an international Catholic group, expressed their feelings on the passing of the Pope as follows:

Cecelia Telef—The Pope's last words "We still have so much to do," were significant of the troubled times we are now seeing.

Jack Murphy—Pope Pius XI has been called to give an account of his stewardship, and not only the Catholic church but the entire Christian world mourns his death. A true champion of Christ, the wisdom of his deeds will mark him among the greatest of the Popes.

Carolyn Borchard—The world lost one of its greatest supporters of peace when Pope Pius XI died.

Tom Engleman—The death of the Pope will probably mean more to the economic and social stability of this world than we are able to realize now.

Ruth De Gunther—I think they'll have a hard time finding another Pope who will do as much to promote peace as did the late Pius XI.

China Celebrates Despite War

FEAST LASTS 18 DAYS

Even amid the sporadic fighting between China and Japan, 400,000,000 Chinese celebrated their New Year last Sunday as usual.

To us, the New Year's celebration lasts only a few hours and is forgotten, but to the Chinese, 18 days are spent in religious and elaborate celebration.

EXCHANGE GREETINGS

During the 18 day period, they parade the streets in brand-new clothes and exchange good wishes with everyone they meet.

On New Year's eve, everyone is busy with accounts, house cleaning, and various other chores, because none of the old business can be carried over to the next year lest it bring bad luck.

Sometimes in rural sections the Chinese carry tiny, ornamental boxes of tea which they give away in the belief that it brings good luck, not only to the person who receives the gift, but to the donor as well.

CLOSE SHOPS

Yuan Tun, the first day of the new year on January 21, belongs to the family and everyone closes his shop. It is not until the fifth day that for the first time in the new year, the women sweep their houses. The dust sweepings are put on a dump heap in the belief that it preserves the family luck.

The seventh day is the Birthday of Mankind and it is believed that bright and clear weather on this day predicts numerous human births during the coming year. On the tenth day, everyone buys plain lanterns so they can paint pictures or write poetic riddles on them. When the candles in the lanterns are lighted there is usually a parade.

CELEBRATES SPRING'S RETURN

Teng Chieh, Feast of the Lanterns, is feted on the fifteenth day. The festival probably originated as a rite to welcome the lengthening of days and the return of spring.

After the eighteenth day, the year is no longer brand-new. School once more rules, and one puts back on his old clothes while his heart is full and his pockets empty.
